

The Haunted Shadow

Once upon a time, in a cozy little town, there lived a boy named Sam. Sam was an adventurous little fellow who loved to explore. He was known for his bravery, even though he was just 7 years old. But there was one thing that gave him the shivers—the dark.

Sam's room was painted in a soft, calming blue, and he had lots of stuffed animals to keep him company. But when night fell, his room would transform into a spooky place filled with shadows hunting him...

As Sam was falling asleep, he saw something moving in the corner of his eye. He immediately jumped out of bed to turn on the light... the power was out. Sam's heart begins to race then he trips over a flashlight he turns it on and sees his dead Aunt. She says "Hello Sam I have come for you..."

No one has ever seen Sam since. People say if you go into his room you can hear his screams....

The end
